

Georgina Sweet Awards for Women in Quantitative Biomedical Science

When: 2 - 6pm, Monday 23 October 2017

Where: The Auditorium, Bio21 Institute, The University of Melbourne, 30 Flemington Road, Parkville, Victoria

Download a map or locate Bio21 using Google Maps\(link is external\).

Join us to meet and celebrate the winners of the Georgina Sweet Awards for Women in Quantitative Biomedical Science.

Program of events

2.00 pm Registration with afternoon tea

2.30-4.00 pm Award winner presentations

- Alyssa Barry, Walter + Eliza Hall Institute
- Megan Maher, La Trobe Institute for Molecular Science
- Stephanie Gras, Monash University (by video)

4.00 pm Guest speaker: Prof Anne Kelso AO,
Chief Executive Officer of NHMRC

4.30 pm Questions & discussion Lead by Prof Edwina Cornish AO, La Trobe Council member and former Provost, Monash University

5.00 pm Drinks and networking

RSVP to gslf-tilleyadmin@unimelb.edu.au by 16/10/17

See further information about the Awards here.

Australian Government
Australian Research Council

Georgina Sweet Award for Women in Quantitative Biomedical Science